

Potting Checklist

Happy House Plants · before you tip that plant out

A pretty pot with no hole is a cachepot. Keep the plant in a nursery pot inside it.
This list is the boring stuff that keeps roots alive.

Before you start

- ☐ New pot is only 2-5 cm wider than the current one (giant pots stay wet and rot roots).
- ☐ The growing pot has a real drainage hole.
- ☐ If the outer pot has no hole, you'll use it as a cachepot and pour off leftover water.
- ☐ Fresh mix ready (houseplant mix + perlite/bark as needed). No gravel layer in the bottom;
- ☐ it does not add drainage.

While you pot

- ☐ Ease the plant out without tearing roots.
- ☐ Tease circling roots so they can grow outward.
- ☐ Set it at the same depth it was before.
- ☐ Fill around the sides and gently firm, just enough to drop air pockets. Do not compact
- ☐ like cement.

Aftercare

- ☐ Water until it runs out the hole.
- ☐ Empty the saucer after 15-20 minutes.
- ☐ Skip a huge feed right away. Let it settle for a week unless the care card says otherwise.
